Guidelines for Contributors

The Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bangladesh is a peer-reviewed journal. Manuscripts submitted for publication in the journal should be printed, double-spaced on one side of A4 size paper with generous margins, and should not normally exceed 10,000 words using British spelling. In addition, a soft copy of the manuscript should be submitted. A quotation that will run more than fifty words should be set off as a single-spaced, double-indented paragraph. Notes and references should be numbered consecutively throughout and be placed at the foot of the page. Tables should be given separate numbers in the manuscript, such as Table 1, Table 2, etc. with running headings.

Notes and References should be cited as follows:

1. P.J. Marshall, Bengal: The British Bridgehead, The Cambridge History of India, (Cambridge 1987), p. 77.
2. Willem Van Schendel, 'Economy of the Working Classes'. Sirajul Islam (ed.), History of Bangladesh 1704-1971, Vol. II, (Economic History), (Asiatic Society of Bangladesh 1992), pp. 542-99.
3. W.H. Morris-Jones, "Pakistan Post-Mortem and the Roots of Bangladesh", Political Quarterly, Vol. 18 (April-June), 1972, pp. 187-200.

DECLARATION

A manuscript which is concurrently under consideration by another journal or press or which has been published elsewhere will not be considered for publication in the Journal.

The author of each paper agrees that (i) the work submitted has been written by her/him and that its similarity with any other published work/unpublished thesis does not exceed 25%; (ii) s/he takes all responsibilities for the content of the paper; (iii) the content of the paper has not been published before in any referred journal or has not been submitted to any such journal for publication; and (iv) s/he accords consent to the Asiatic Society of Bangladesh to publish the paper.

BOOK REVIEW

Books sent to the journal for review should be given in duplicate.

We are happy to inform you that the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bangladesh (Humanities) has recently acquired DOI (Digital Object Identifier). We are now entitled to assign DOI to all individual papers starting from the June 2023 issue of the Journal. This will help scholars all over the world to easily locate the published papers. It will also increase the visibility and facilitate citation of the papers. With this, the Journal is taking another step forward in terms of academic excellence as well as international recognition. On this auspicious occasion the Editorial Board of the Journal expresses its heartiest gratitude to the ASB Council and all concerned.
